

All ProAction Cops & Kids funding is raised from private donors. The more donors hear about your program, (from us or in the media) the more likely it is they will continue to support ProAction. Please ensure that ProAction's role in supporting your program is a part of your message. ProAction encourages you to seek media attention for your program.

- ProAction Cops & Kids would like to review any news releases, media alerts or other print materials before they are sent out to the media or public, regardless of whether they have been initiated by you, HPS Communications or an outside partner in your program (i.e. Community Centre, YWCA, etc.)
- Please refer to us as ProAction Cops & Kids, with absolutely no variation, in your first reference to us in your written material. In the second reference you may refer to us as just ProAction.
- On all press releases, promotional materials, or when you are speaking to media about your program, please include the following sentence:
“(Program) is funded by ProAction Cops & Kids, a charitable organization that supports police led youth programs for vulnerable and under resourced youth.”
- ProAction's organizational summary can also be included on any news releases, media alerts and other print materials. It should appear as follows at the end of the release or alert:
About ProAction Cops & Kids:
“ProAction Cops & Kids is a charity that supports police led youth programs for vulnerable and under resourced youth. At ProAction, we bring cops and kids together in skill-building and mentoring programs to create trust, respect and safer communities.”
- Please notify ProAction's staff of any and all media opportunities for your program, regardless of whether they have been initiated by you, the HPS Communications Unit or another of your partners in the program. If you are aware that media will be attending your event, or if you have sent out invitations to media, please notify ProAction staff so they can attend the event, assist with creating/editing media materials and provide you with briefing notes for potential interviews.
